“ We have know Dabney as neighbors for years but only got to be friends in the last two years,
One morning while sitting out front with our dog a chocolate lab mix he stopped and asked if he could walk her ? We said she would love that and so began our friendship and that of he and Cashew ,
Dabney started a routine of faithfully walking Cashew at 9:00 am and 4:00 pm seven days a week all season's . He would bundle him and her in her coat and do their walking,
On Wednesday he would drive her to his son Richards and all three walked, (many times they would go through Dunking donuts, or Dairy Queen on their outings) On Saturday morning Richard would come here and all three would walk together.
Many times we would talk upon returning from the walks. He called her “Sugar”.
She waits for him every day looking at his house for him to come. Doesn't understand that her friend has gone to Heaven and will not be coming to walk.
Dabney was a beautiful man and we will miss him so much

“ Dabney came into our lives only recently, in years, and yet he was the friendliest and nicest person, really nice person! He meant so much to my family and my parent's dog Cashew and we already miss him terribly.

“ It is difficult for me to think of Monumental Church without our beloved Dabney. Monumental without Dabney is like a garden without flowers. He was always there for all of us...weddings, funerals or whatever the need might be. I have lost my pastor and my friend. Lynn Wiggins

“ I got to know Dabney when he was Norfolk District Superintendent. I worked in the office next door to him at United Methodist Family Services as office manager. He was a great supporter of our agency and our staff. It was always a joyful occasion when he would stop by for business reasons or just to say hello. I became very fond of him and missed him when he left. Even though he was retired, he agreed to be the officiant at my wedding in 2002, and of course, did a wonderful job. He was an amazing human being and pastor. Deepest condolences to his family.

“ Dabney was a saint to me in the late eighties and early nineties when my dad's health was declining slightly as he tried to keep up his longtime habits of physical fitness. For several years they were boon companions on the roadways and neighborhoods of Churchland. I felt relieved that Dabney was looking after him.

During those years he was a regular visitor at my dad's house and I loved to be in his company. He was an excellent conversationalist

He presided at the funeral services of my stepmother.

He was a good and decent man who should be remembered first and foremost for his kindness.

Rest In Peace my friend.

My deepest sympathy to his family and friends who are mourning his death.
