“ Marie's mother was the first of 12 children and my mother was the last. When we all lived in Portsmouth Marie used to babysit me a lot. She always, even up to her last days, called me her baby. I loved hearing the stories she and my mother shared about the days during and after WW2. Marie always managed to find chocolate and would share with her family. I have so many fond memories of the almost yearly family reunions. With such a large family they were always lots of fun. Marie had such a wonderful, loving and Christian spirit and everyone around her felt it. I am so blessed that I got to see her at Aunt Verna's birthday. I know you will have all those angels organized real soon.

Love,

“ My first memory of Marie is a birthday dinner for Grandmother at Aunt Adell's? I remember her having on a red and white dress that she had made. She and Aunt Melma were both excellent seamstresses and there was a friendly competition between them. Marie and Cecil were a delightful, good looking couple and I remember Cecil Jr. as a little tyke running around at the birthday dinner grounds. Through the years Marie and my mother maintained a lovely relationship sharing their joy and their sorrows. Years later, Marie said to me: "Arlene, George is a good man, and a good man is hard to find." George and I share that remark often. Marie was a very accomplished woman. Her crafts were outstanding and her loving generous nature always evident. She made the "Sugar Britches" Doll for each of my granddaughters. I remember she and Libby always visiting with their dear mother at the home in Deep Creek. I remember once when Marie brought her mother to visit my mother, my dad called me aside and said: "Marie really loves her mother, you can tell by the way she treats her." Marie had a way of laughing that was most joyful and a little mischievous. In everything Marie's Christianity was evident. I will surely miss her.

“ When I was six years old, I would rock Marie in a rocking chair. When I told her I was going to put her down, she would start crying!
I rocked her many times until one day the rocking chair broke down! I loved her so much!

Aunt Florene Owen

My special memory of Marie was when her family would come to visit and we would all get to sleep on a pallet on the floor. She was always so much fun!
Marie, many years later, directed my and Gary's wedding! She did a beautiful job and made the event a lot of fun! Marie was deeply loved by our family! Cousin Vivian Owen Beasley:)
