“ Sonya and Tim, your mother received a great gift of spending Christmas with Jesus this year. No more sadness, no more tears, no more suffering, no more fears, only joy. Tim, you, Ron and I share losing our mothers during the holidays.....yours Thanksgiving 2011, mine on Christmas Day 2009, and Ron's on New Year's 2005. Our thoughts are with you and your family at this time. Surely good memories will replace the sadness....Love Angie and Ron!

“ Thank you, Grandmother Medlin, for being such a strong influence in our family. Thank you for setting an example with your strong faith. Thank you for taking care of Granddad all of those years. Thank you for always being there and giving me a sense of security, especially in those times of my life that were difficult and tumultuous. Thank you for teaching me to make your sweet tea and chilighetti. Thank you for co-signing my student loans and feeding me during college. Thank you for the special memories of Christmas and family reunions in Myrtle Beach that will last forever. Thank you for embracing my wife and adoring my children. Thank you, Grandmother Medlin, for loving me unconditionally for my entire life. I love you and miss you already.##imported-begin##Brendan & Valerie Medlin & Family##imported-end##

“ Angel, I am saddened by your passing. It is truly the end of an era. You were the one who read me Bible stories when I was just 3 years old and gave me my first love for Jesus. I can't be too sad though because I know where you are and that I will see you again. So it's not goodbye but just good night. I will see you in the morning. Thank goodness for the hope I Corinthians 15 gives us. Those who are in Christ, who have accepted His gift of salvation and made Him Lord of their life shall be made alive again. "The trumpet will sound, and the dead will be raised incorruptible." "Thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ." I love you, Angel. I'll see you in heaven.##imported-begin##Linda Antezana##imported-end##
