We were blessed to have the time with Margaret that we did. We didn't know Chris very well, but we know she loves him. When they told us they were pregnant and moving out, we were a little angry and sad. We know moving home with her mom was a good choice, so, we were relieved to know that that was where she was going. We love you Margaret and we are so sorry and saddened by yours and Chris' great loss. Thank you for sharing her on FB so we could see and watch as she grew. What a darling.

“ My precious little grandbaby you turned my world upside down with your love and smiles. I will cherish the morning hugs and kisses, the after work hugs and kisses and the goodnight hugs and kisses. I am so glad I got a chance to be your Nana and spoil you as much as I could before you went home to be with our Lord. I am so glad your wonderful mommy and I took so many pictures and videos of you because it will allow us to always see that beautiful smiling face! We miss you so much!!!

Here only for a short time but forever in our hearts, your smile lit up the room. Your curiosity made us laugh. What a great personality you had. Such a big impact for one so small. In the gentle hands Of the good Shepherd so loving and kind. Embraced by the God of eternity who humbled himself down to receive this precious little child. Into his loving arms forever and in our hearts always. Love you precious, great aunt Gloria
