“ Patsy,

My deepest sympathy to you, Michael and family. I realize this has been a long difficult time for all of you as you watched illness attack Don and drain him of his strength and vitality. He was an exceptional man of goodness and my life was made richer by him being a part of it for so many years. He was truly a part of our family in every way and the loss is deep.

Don was a man who was just bigger than life. His laugh could fill any room and it was outstandingly joyous.. We all shared so many funny times together at my home in Cradock as I was growing up. He was there for so many holidays and family parties and extended family gatherings when our relatives came in from out of town. Since both of my grandparents lived with us at different times, they always looked forward to Don's visit, as he would talk with them and lift their spirits. Everyone loved him and Patsy. He was adored by my parents. My Dad saw his Christian potential to be a leader in our congregation because of his faithfulness and unwavering integrity, and was very proud of all he became in the church. Daddy spoke of it to me just a few days before he died. My Mother saw him as another son and was always happy to see him eat that second bowl of her famous ambrosia, always with the utmost praise. He and Patsy was always there to help our family in times of need. He sat with my parents in times of sickness and sorrow and would pray aloud for them so tenderly. He was a true friend. These are only a few things that are a part of my memories of Don. He, with Patsy by his side, was our dear loved one who will be missed forever. May your sweetest memories carry you through the days ahead and soothe your broken hearts. Richard and I send our love to you always.

Linda

“ I have been privileged and blessed to know Don for over 30 years. We met professionally in 1989 where he quickly earned my respect as a man of strong character and integrity. Over the years we became friends, it was during this time that I learned Don was also loyal, thoughtful and supportive. He was a true friend who I will miss greatly.

“ Don will always be remembered as a righteous man to our family. He's helped me with my son, taught my daughter how to be a Christian after her baptism, prayed for my family over the years and has always been there as my counsel and confidant. I pray our Lord comforts the Seay Family and leaves you with only cherished memories of Don's life well lived.

Sincerely,

Keith D. Churchman
