Jeana Vaughan Boone - April 12, 2020 at 07:03 AM

“ I remember all the sick days that you rushed me to the doctor and stuck my side until I got better 😞. I remember you helping me when I broke my toe 😞. I remember you visiting me while I was locked up in behavior health centers and while I was locked up in Chesapeake juvenile services 😞. I cry everyday because the person that prevents me from suicidal thoughts is actually gone 🙏. I remember you doing that thing to me when ever I couldn't sleep. I remember sleep walking around the house and then you would direct me to the bed to make sure I was safe. I need you by my side. I really wanted to explore the world like you did. I will live life to the fullest to live on with your legacy.

David Maldonado - April 12, 2020 at 02:32 AM

“ i remember being a little scared boy and my dad telling me everything was going to be okay. He was my life coach throughout basketball, baseball, soccer, even life. He was my friend. He was my dad. He was part of my crew. And even though he never really approved of the girls I was dating, deep down I knew it was for the best. I'm glad I had you as a dad and no one else. No one else will fit your place.

“ Lupe called me every weekend like clockwork. The last time I spoke to him was the Saturday before he past away. He spoke to my husband Efrain, his younger brother Ulises from PR. We never imagined that would be our last conversations and last goodbyes. My mother always gave us her blessings and so after she died I picked up where she left off and I always gave Lupe my blessings after every phone conversation. I will miss Lupe's weekly phone calls.

Lupe, I remember the day I met you. You told me I was a FOX! I didn't believe you, but I hung out anyway. :) Then you shared a part of your life with me that gave me great memories. I am so happy you made even better memories and had a beautiful full life with children and grand children and a loving wife. Rest in peace Abuelito! And thanks for the good times! Eileen N.

“ May you rest in the arms of the Lord who formed you from the dust of the earth. May holy Mary, the angels, and all the saints welcome you now that you have gone forth from this life. May Christ who was crucified for you, bring you freedom and peace. May Christ who died for you admit you into his garden of paradise.
To my unclce Lupe you will be greatly missed. This is hard to believe and still shocking. RIP SIP

“ I was always proud that he always thought of me and his son and my children as his grand kids. Everytime Lupe introduced me to someone, he always told them I was his son. He never told anyone I was his stepson. He always introduced my kids as his grandkids. He always treated us with the utmost respect. I have nothing but respect, admiration for Lupe. He was the best. I really miss him.

“ I remember when Lupe found out my daughter Natalie was in the hospital. He cried and got my mom and went straight to the hospital. When my daughter took a turn for the worst, Lupe went with my mom and I to Washington, D.C. to Medstar Washington Hospital and was right there showing support.
