“ During these times, it is especially important to draw close to God in prayer, for the Bible promises that he himself will sustain you.? - Psalm 55:22. For help dealing with your grief, you may be encouraged by reading Philippians 4:6,7. My prayers are with your family.##imported-begin##Martha Bellamy##imported-end##

“ For My Grammy-Groo,
Throughout my life, she was and still is one of the most strongest women I have ever been blessed to have known and to be apart of our family " could have never asked for a better grandmother, role model and friend" , we have shared so many memories. She was more than my grammy she was like a mother, she helped raise me and helped me raise my son. I could never repay or thank her enough. In the end I just tried to help take care of her the way she had always done me. Forever you will be missed but never forgotten. Until we meet again my grammy, I so look forward to that day for you to open your arms to me once again,I will say "hello my darling told you I would see you soon". Love Always your first granddaughter, Your "Little Ciara"##imported-begin##Ciara Clark##imported-end##

“ "To Her Girls"

Your Mom was one of the dearest women I have ever known. She was a true matriarch and loved unconditionally because she was truly "Bea-uti-ful!" I will miss her smile, her laugh and her always endearing greeting, "Hello-My Darling!" Just like Karen, I love "Her Girls!" Love Always,
