“ When I was nervous about my baptism, Katie told me it was reverence for the occasion. It helped me understand the awesome change in my life. As a new convert, she made me feel welcome. I can only imagine how wonderful she was as a wife, mother & daughter. I pray that the peace of God will cover your heart during your time of bereavement.##imported-begin##Susan Williams##imported-end##

“ Justin,
I could not beleive it. Katie was 12 when I met her. I felt like I grew up with her. She was the last of Bert and Carol's children but she was the first to marry and have children and buy a house. She had the most beautiful smile and was so wonderful to work with. I feel a part of me is missing. I can't keep back the tears. I loved Carol & Bert and all the children like I was part of the family. I remember talking to Katie about how much she was in love with you. You had a very special wife and in-laws. Now you have two beautiful children who love you very much. Sorry I can't be with you Friday but my thoughts and prayers will be you and all your family. I love you all so much and miss you.

Cosette and David loved her like a sister and our whole family felt the same way. She was so pleasant to be around. She loved her children so much and it showed in everything she did. I know that our Father in Heaven has a work for her to do. We will all miss her and keep her sweet spirit in our memory forever. God bless her husband and her two sweet children and help them to live their lives the way Katie would have wanted them to. She is still there watching over them.
