“ Mrs. Brett was a very sweet lady. She would bring my parents stew when they weren't feeling well or when she made a large batch. She would also bring dad some collards every once in a while because he loved them and mom wouldn't make them.
Mrs Brett loved animals and so did I . She would always take in strays and we would always help out.
She was always so nice to have as a neighbor. I grew up and moved away. She was always happy to see me and visa versa when I came back to visit my parents.
She will be missed.
