

Linda Mae Giglio

November 8, 2013

Linda Mae Giglio passed away on Friday, November 8, 2013, at the age of 66. She was the daughter of Tony and Ruth Giglio. She grew up in Alamosa, Colorado where she was active in track and field. She was chosen to participate in the Jr. Olympics in Denver, Colorado and was also active in the 4-H Horse Club, showing quarter horses.

She moved to Virginia and eventually graduated from the Chesapeake Police Academy in May 1982 where she served the city for 19 years.

Survivors include her husband Greg White; daughter Tawnya J. Vogel; son-in-law Ed Vogel III; son Leo J. Dorrell; daughter-in-law Jolene Dorrell; Step daughter Ashli Pack; and son-in-law Brian Pack. She will also be missed by her five grandchildren, Eddie, Liberty, Faith, Lucy, and Turner.

The family will hold a "Celebration Service" to honor her life on Monday, November 18, 2013 at 7:00 PM at Community Church, 1935 Jolliff Rd. Chesapeake, VA 23321.

Tribute Wall

“ My friend Linda I am going to miss you. I guess I will have to stay skinny because you WILL NOT BE HERE to fatten me up. Say hi to all our family and friends for us. Love Juanita##imported-begin##Juanita Nickol##imported-end##

November 17, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ Hey mom,
Just wanted to tell you that we miss you!! Sure hope you are dancing in heaven and smiling down on us.
Love you,##imported-begin##Tawnya Vogel##imported-end##

November 17, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ Linda was a super friend and most valuable employee. Her passing is a loss to us, but a lovely soul added to heaven. God Bless##imported-begin##Wesley George Hamilton##imported-end##

November 16, 2013 at 12:00 AM

“ From Leo-How's that wine bar in the sky?

From Jolene-We love and miss you.##imported-begin##Leo Dorrell##imported-end##

November 15, 2013 at 12:00 AM