“ We are so sorry to hear of Lucy's passing. We know how difficult this time is for each of you. Keep your memories close to your heart and mind, they will be a great comfort. Only God can ease your pain and grief. It is comforting to know that our loved ones are in heaven rejoicing with each other and our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. What a celebration there must be when each one enters heaven. I know Mom was there waiting for Lucy. I'm sure they shared childhood memories. It doesn't ever get easier but our faith helps us learn to adjust. Only God can take the grief away and put joy back in our hearts. We will be praying for each of you that God will bless you in the days to come and hold you tightly in his loving arms. If there is anything we can do, please let us know. Mom Marilyn as you would know her, only had 13 days with us after we found out about her cancer, a blessing she didn't have to suffer anymore, but difficult for us. Not much time. Always remember to say "I Love You", and mean it, you never know how much time you have left. I'm sure you know how we feel, if you could just have one more hug and kiss and one more conversation, it would mean the world. We have learned to cherish our moments together, I hope your family will do the same. May God bless each of you.
