“ Two things I will remember of Margaret. When I was giving birth to her first grandchild, Margaret outside of the room telling the nurse that it would be ok for her to be in the labor room as she was a nurse too! She was determined! One pound of milk chocolate for me every weekend as someone had told her that was good for a nursing mother, gotta feed the baby! and then Watching her watch her son pass. Never leaving his side tho her sugar was up and down. Watching her reach up to his neck to feel for a pulse, finding none, saying he is gone. Faith and strength as big and mighty as a mountain, packed into a little person. Faith never ending. Faith that carried her home.

Sending my love and prayers to the family. I remember her, but its been years. I left Portsmouth and following my call to be a missionary. I served in Africa 34 years. It will be a great reunion in Heaven when we can see our friends. She is rejoicing now..... Blessings Elsie Young Amstutz
