“ I want to send my regrets and best wishes to Milton's family. I know he will be missed dearly. Milton was a very special person to all of us. His stories always entertained me. It was great listening to how he worked as an apprentice for my grandfather in the machine shop. His life represents a lot of history. The years he spent with us were never dull. All of us loved him and know he is up there talking with God.##imported-begin##Joe Woodington##imported-end##

“ I will always remember Milton for his funny and disparaging little self-introduction: "Hi, I'm Milton Martin and I'm the black sheep of the family." Milton, now you're one of the precious sheep that is safe within the fold.
May God's peace be with you, Onider, and with all of your family and loved ones.##imported-begin##Leslie Hines##imported-end##
