“ I remember when I used to help out at Lorna's business doing wedding decorations. She did amazing work, but what I truly enjoyed was to see how fully involved her whole family was in each event. These events took a lot of work to be done in a short amount of time right before the event took place, yet they all did their parts without the drama or anxiety one would expect to see. I don't think I ever saw Norberto throwing a fit. He always figured out a solution for whatever problem arose. The Galarza Gonzalez family is a very special family. It is such a sight to witness the unity, love and consideration they all have for one another. I have come accross in the past with families whose siblings carry deep issues or scars from their growing up, silly grudges people choose to hold on to, but you can see that Jessica, Lorna and Norbi have grown to become 3 wonderful well rounded adults who have formed beautiful, healthy relationships, 3 beautiful families that all get along with each other and that is a testament of the great man that Norberto was, and the amazing woman that Monse is. I can only hope when I look back in my own life I can leave such an accomplished legacy. We will miss you, Norberto, but we will never forget you. Thank you for letting me be amongst your friends and family. I love you all.
