“ One of my memories of Pat was the "headaches" she caused me and Phyllis DeMarco on many occasions. When I first went in Grand Line- our families spent numerous weekends at her house which always produced a "headache" for Phyllis and I-as we did not know she served only DECAF coffee! She was a true lady and gracious host, which will always be remembered by not only myself but all Job's Daughters International.

“ When receiving the news of the passing of Pat, I was sad to know that I would never see her smiling face or hear her comforting words. Pat and my mom, Phyllis DeMarco and I had a very close relationship over the years. We spent many visits together as we traveled to Portsmouth. She and Lewis were very special and she will be truly missed by ALL!. She touched the lives of all who came to know her - especially the Job's Daughters in the state of Virginia and those International.
