“ The best antidote for the pain that death inflicts is to keep busy helping others?quite a challenge for those who believe they are the ones in need of help Here is where unselfishness plays a part. Unselfishly doing things for others helps to banish sadness and grief, for Jesus said: ?There is more happiness in giving than there is in receiving.??Acts 20:35.##imported-begin##Spence##imported-end##

“ To the Snow Family,

I just wanted to say that I will miss Robert and his friendly ways and his "short" jokes. During the time we worked together at NOAA, he never had an unkind word to say about anyone and was always willing to help when I was stuck or didn't quite understand something. I hope you know that we loved Robert a lot and will surely miss him, not as much as you, of course, but you are not alone. My thoughts and prayers are with you during this most sad time in your lives. Let it will be a comfort to you to know that Robert is no longer in pain and misery, his journey is over and he is already on the other side.

“ Jeanne- My thoughts are with you and your family. I wish there was something I could say to help you through this but I know there is not. Just fond memories to convey. Unfortunately the memories are of us young guys tormenting Bob. I can still see him driving the launch in St. Andrew Bay and complaining to Dave and I that we had the music on too loud. He was a great sport to put up with ALL of us!! I will miss him. I'm sorry to say that I am in West Africa right now and will not be able to attend his service so I will call you when I return.

“ Jeanne, our thoughts and prayers are with you and the family during this time. We're sorry for your loss and know that we'll all miss Bob. Everyone at AHB feels your loss. It feels like he's only on vacation and will be back to work.

Bob was the first person that I met when I first joined NOAA. I'll never forget him nor his talents with his passion for antique cars and some of the great foods he cooked for our pot luck lunches.

Our prayers are with you. God speed. Gene and Leslie Parker##imported-begin##Gene and Leslie Parker##imported-end##
