“ This past year has been horrible, We miss you like crazy. when we lost you it was the worst thing that has ever happened to our family. My heart still aches. It never gets easier not having you around... The one thing that keeps me going is to look at the smile on sean jr's face. He is my world, my heart, my life. we always told sean to slow down, grandma louise used to yell at him for doing burnouts in front of her house. sean loved fast cars and speed so one thing we can say is he died doing something he loved. Sean had accomplished alot in his life and grew up to be a wonderful young man. we are very proud of him. He will forever be in our hearts and missed more than words can ever say.

“ I met sean on the internet playing mobsters. We became friends almost instantly, he was a very sweet and respectful person and I don't think I will ever meet anyone like him. We would talk on the phone all the time and I could always call him if I needed to talk and that will be the thing that I will miss most. He was a good person inside and out, I will miss the arguements we would have even though I never won the arguement...lol. but most of all I will miss the times that we spent together, and I am deeply sorry for his family and friends lost and to let his son sean sean jr know that his father was a good person!! I love you and I will miss you sean.....

“ I remember we use to act a fool in the back at the frames area at JCI and he and I would sing and make all kinds of noises together. He made my night and He made me feel welcome because I was fairly new to night shift. I will not forget him. “ Sean was like a second brother to me. I could always count on him to pick up Jim's slack when it came to teasing and torturing me as a child. I will always cherish our old love/hate relationship, and I couldn't imagine my childhood without it. His sense of humor will live on in my memories forever. I also had the opportunity to see Sean as the man he had become, and share some heart to hearts with him. He was an incredible individual, who effected the lives of many. I wish I could be there to share in expressing the memories of all the joy and vivacity Sean brought into our lives. My deepest condolences to family and friends.

To live in the hearts we leave behind is not to die.

“ I can't believe that he's gone, it doesn't seem possible. I met Lil' Sean when I was 17 and since then I've seen him grow into a man that many would've never imagined him to become. I'm so proud of him and everything that he accomplished during his short life. I have so many memories of times with Sean that will always live on in my heart.

You will always be my little brother and I will never forget you!
