“ Granddaddy Joe.....25 years ago I married your oldest grandson, Jr and formally adopted you in my heart as an additional grandparent. We had two daughters, Brittany and Kaelynn who were adored by you and who loved you very much. Their children, Marissa, Miles and AJ also had the honor of knowing you and being part of a 5 generation family. You were the patriarch of a large family. What a blessing for all of us to cherish!!

A few memories that I will always treasure in my heart are the family gatherings and one-of-a-kind birthday cakes usually prepared by you, Chef Joe. Your 70th birthday party catered by who else?? The chef himself!! When you turned 80, it's was our turn to cater to you and Chef Joe entertained us by performing as "Karaoke Joe." When we think of you, we will always hear you tenderly singing Danny Boy and Mona Lisa. As the years went on, you still enjoyed your family's company. I enjoyed playing "war" with you since that was the only card game I knew how to play. Other family members enjoyed playing a good round of Poker with you at the table. Once you even were patient enough to try to teach me to count to 10 in Tagalog. On Sundays after church, I'd make sure to update you on the weather and upcoming holidays or birthdays and watch some boxing, an old Western or an action packed Jean-Claude Van Damme movie. At age 90, you were intrigued by our cell phones and how we could face time far away family members so you could see them and talk to them. We even shared a selfie!! You enjoyed looking through photos as much as I enjoyed taking them and sharing them with you. One of my favorite memories was when I took you to the airport so you could go to the Philippines. Hurricane Isabell was on the way and you insisted that I take this huge pan of lumpia that you had just made in case the power went out so they wouldn't go bad. Well, the power did go out but because we had a gas stove, we were able to cook them all and the whole neighborhood feasted on your culinary goodness.

As your journey on this earth came to an end, you left all of us with one final life lesson and memory....it didn't matter what kind of gifts were under the tree this year because the greatest gift is life itself and how we choose to live it with those closest to us. While we may not share this earthly home any longer, I eagerly yet patiently wait until my Savior calls me to join you and countless other loved family and friends in our eternal home. Until then, I'll continue to treasure my memories and honor your life and service by making sure you are not forgotten....you will forever be loved and remembered by us!!

*Honored to be part of your legacy,
Katrina (and family)*

“ Uncle Joe, 91 years, God Bless You, I can't even imagine reaching that age. Your life will continue to be seen in all of your children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. But, sadly there comes a time when our physical body cannot endure so much pain and suffering. You held on for as long as you could and now you can rest knowing you left a legacy of wonderful souls to carry on in your memory. Rest in peace Uncle! Job well done!

“ My dad was a man of many talents, while serving in the U.S. NAVY from which he retired in 67, he took a liking to the culinary arts .He served as head chef to Admiral Austin of Rhode Island for several years

He was the number one representative for the northeast in the flyweight division in boxing, and a great fan of Pacquiao's, he also loved bowling and fishing, was an avid gardner. He was a man who paid attention to detail and you could see that in his cooking and baking skills. He has five children, the eldest Ceferino, Anna, Charles, Elizabeth, and Julia, the youngest who left us before her time. He has quite a large family, with a ton of grandchildren and great grandchildren even great great grandchildren. My dad was and always be a loving father and Papa, mellow and easy going and loved by all. I know i am and always will be his daughter .LOVE YOU DAD ANNA
