“ My dad Victor trained horses for Billy and Pat years ago. We always loved and thought of Billy as family. We also enjoyed when they would come to Charles Town to visit when their horses ran. We always kept in touch through Facebook and he never change one day always a wonderful guy with jokes and laughter and a story. Rest in peace, Billy.

He was my children's granddaddy and had been in my life since I was a teenager. The best memories were Easter, he and Pat cooked a huge spread when all of the girls were little and they did Easter egg hunts in his yard. Things changed a lot over the years, but he will always be remembered. Rest in peace, Billy.
