“ I remember first meeting Uncle Walter in 2001 at his shop with my dad in New Jersey. I was very happy to meet him and his wife Aunt Joyce. He took me and my dad in the back of the shop and showed us how he prepared and cooked food and the stories he told me and my dad. I will never forget that moment. Because of him, I was able to meet his wonderful family and was able to understand more about our Chinese culture. RIP Uncle

“ R.I.P. Uncle Walter. You'll be deeply missed and will have a special place in my heart. I'll always remember your great cooking, the stories you told, your humorous personality and being able to learn more about our Chinese culture. The most important thing is you are a family man at heart. Thanks for the memories Uncle Walter! Miss you, Love you!##imported-begin##Natasha Tokye Wong##imported-end##
