“ “Uncle Billy” I’m going to miss your humor, jokes, laughter, smile, and advice But Aunt Diana no one is going to miss him as much as you he was your high school prom date ,boyfriend, husband, lover, children’s father, grandchildren’s grandfather, provider he was your everything that’s what I call a soul mate . And if Uncle Billy is anything in heaven like he was here on earth a lot of great things are going to happen for you. I believe in angles and that are loved ones are looking down on us watching us protecting us and guide us. Aunt Diana you chose a great man and they say behind a great man is a great women. And you’re great women I know you felt helpless and we all know if there was anything you could have done to stop Uncle Billy from leaving earth you would have. It hurts to know he’s gone but he’ll be in hearts forever. I love you Aunt Diana##imported-begin##Diana Williams##imported-end##

“ W.O. and I started at SUPSHIP Newport News on the same day in 1974. My fondest memory of W.O. was on that first day. The boss called us all together outside his office and told us he would get us training material and desks to sit at. W.O. without missing a beat pointed at the boss' desk and said he wanted that one. I thought the boss would choke on his cigar but finally responded that he like his men to be aggressive. That was the quintessential W.O. I knew for 30 plus years. God speed mate!##imported-begin##Dick Osborne##imported-end##
